

Kahlua

ESTES PARK BREWERY ESTES PARK

Began in Estes Park 1993, moving from Boulder

The brewery is a green business, recycling glass, cardboard and other materials

Located in the original event center in Estes Park

Most Annoying Habit: Bites at the vacuum cleaner

Favorite Toy: Squeaky dinosaur

Naughtiest Deed: Once ate a full tray of chocolate

Most Endearing Trait: Great with kids; allows them to dress her up with bows

Kahlua is a mountain bulldog. With her short legs, one would never imagine that Kahlua loves to hike in the mountains around Estes Park. On long treks with brewery co-owner Tyler, she used to literally “run up the mountain.” Naturally, you would expect a bulldog to fight with other dogs, but Tyler says, “Not so much anymore.” Kahlua hangs around the house a lot, loves kids – and they love her – probably because she can find the chocolate and knows how to open a jar. Even at age nine, she still loves to jump into the kids’ beds, and play keep-away with their toys. 🐾
